

STUDIO WILLIAM

Studio William Welch Ltd, is an internationally renowned, design-award-winning cutlery company, based in the the quintessentially English town of Stratford-Upon-Avon. We are English designers, upholding the tradition of English cutlery makers; but we are people of the world. At Studio William we have a wide range of influences, from art and architecture, to nature and history. Every range of cutlery we design and manufacture has it's own personal story to tell.

BAOBAB SATIN

The rounded forms of Baobab Cutlery creates a simple, confident form for every table.

The Baobab is called the tree of life with good reason. It is capable of providing shelter, food and water for the animal and human inhabitants of the African Savannah regions. Mature trees are frequently hollow, providing living space for numerous animals and humans alike.

LARCH MIRROR

Larch cutlery has historical influences but it's flowing form gives this pattern a modern flavour.

When Julius Caesar laid siege to an alpine fort, he was amazed that the burning brushwood had no effect on the fort's timber walls - constructed of Larch. A generation later, Larch was used during the building of the palace of Emperor Augustus, built in Rome.

REDWOOD MIRROR

Redwood has been inspired by classical styles of cutlery. This pattern's innovative form is perfect for both contemporary and traditional settings.

The Redwood is the world's tallest tree. These giants have a special relationship with lightening. They need to be struck in order to stop growing.

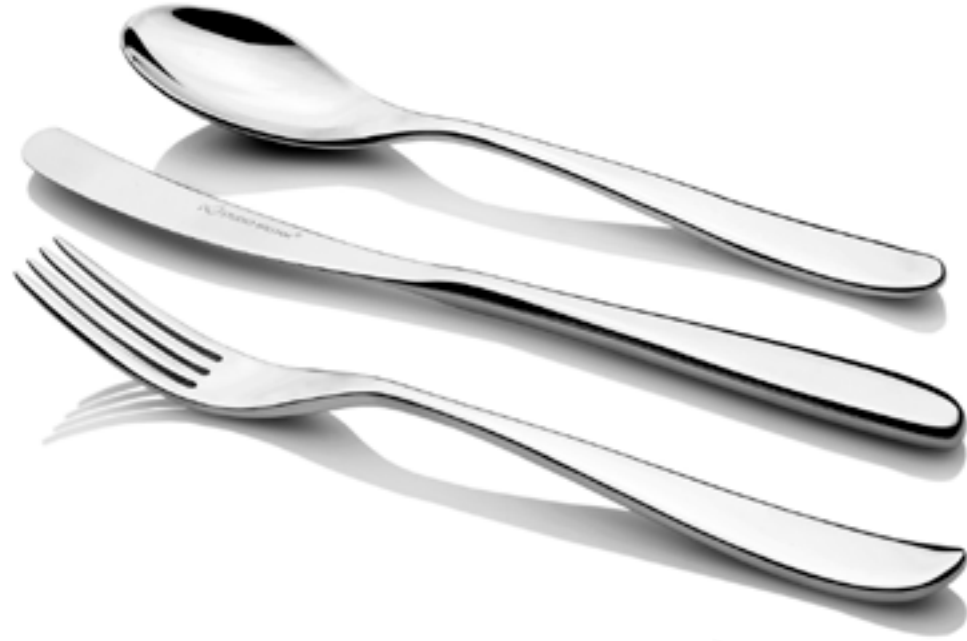

OLIVE MIRROR

Using beautiful refined asymmetric lines Olive challenges the appearance of traditional cutlery and brings personality to the dining table.

Olive won the prestigious Reddot Award and has been placed in the permanent collection at the Design Museum in Essen, Germany.

TILIA MIRROR

The simplicity of Tilia's clean flowing form makes this a very elegant and sophisticated pattern. Long and elegant, our Tilia range is unique, like the family of trees itself. The exact number of species of Tilia is subject to considerable debate, as many, or most, of the species will hybridise readily, both in the wild and in cultivation.

BALSA MIRROR

The latest edition to the Studio William forest, Balsa features unique and dynamic details, that compliment and enhance your dining experience. Deliberately elongated and slender looking fork heads and spoon bowls enable the diner to pick up smaller food portion sizes, this allows the diner to really think about the tastes and textures the chef has created.

ROYAL OAK MIRROR

Hidden beneath the handles is a reference to the historical “King’s Pattern”. This can be placed on display on the table, or concealed like the King himself.

The Royal Oak is the name given to the oak tree in which Charles II of England hid to escape the Roundheads during The Battle of Worcester in 1651. An ancient oak, thought to be from an acorn from the original, still stands at Boscobel in Shropshire.

ROYAL OAK GOLDPLATE

Royal Oak Gold is the epitome of elegance. Hidden beneath the handles is a reference to the historical "King's Pattern". This detail is plated with 24carat gold. The cutlery can be placed on the table as normal, or have a few pieces (or all) turned over in the 'continental style' to show a subtle opulence.

MAHOGANY SATIN

Mahogany Cutlery has been designed to highlight the functional area of a utilitarian object by making a feature of the manufacturing processes that go into creating cutlery.

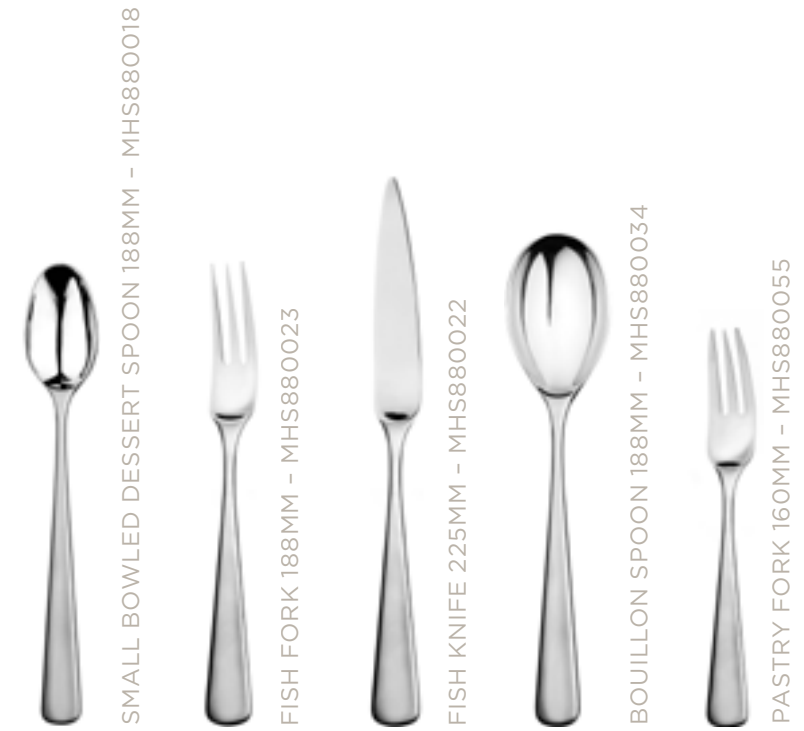

The edges of the handles are finished with crafted radii to ensure a delicate ergonomic feeling to the hand, whilst the varying thickness gauges in the handles have been engineered for refined weight and balance.
