Policarbonato (PC)

Este material é conhecido pela sua resistência ao impacto e à chama: muito cristalino, sendo a opção ideal na proteção contra actos de vandalismo. A sua aplicação evita os elevados custos de substituição dos vidros partidos bem como os objetos danificados pelos estilhaços destes. Com uma variedade de cores, abrangendo as cores fluorescentes, fornecemos uma diversidade de copos, personalizados ao gosto do cliente, incluindo a impressão de logotipo.

Cores

Tritan

É conhecido pela sua clareza, durabilidade, resistência química e por não conter bisfenol A (BPA), um composto químico muitas vezes utilizado em plásticos policarbonatos e resinas epóxi. É resistente a impactos e tem boa durabilidade, tornando-o adequado para uso em produtos que podem estar sujeitos a condições rigorosas de manuseio e uso diário.

Cores

Ecozen

É um polietileno tereftalato (PETG) com transparência excepcional e resistência química. Devido aos componentes de biomassa de origem vegetal, possui maior resistência ao calor. Não contém derivados de bisfenol (BPA, etc.).

Cores

Polipropileno (PP)

O polipropileno (PP) de grau alimentar, é conhecido pela sua resistência ao impacto e NÃO à chama: de baixo custo, aspecto um pouco baço, sendo uma opção intermédia para proteção contra actos de vandalismo. A sua aplicação evita os elevados custos de substituição dos vidros partidos bem como os objetos danificados pelos estilhaços destes.

Cores

Biopolímeros (BIO)

Estes novos polímeros biodegradáveis, são produzidos por seres vivos, os quais são constituídos por açúcares, aminoácidos e nucleotídeos. Os hidratos de carbono são as principais fontes destes biopolímeros, como por exemplo, a cana-de-açúcar, o milho, a batata, o trigo e a beterraba ou óleo vegetal extraído de soja, girassol, palma ou outra planta oleaginosa.

* lavagem a frio

SAN

O SAN é muito transparente e tem um acabamento brilhante. A característica adicional de resistência aos riscos torna-o a escolha adequada para displays de pontos de venda e artigos de cosmética.

PMMA

O PMMA é um polímero termoplástico extremamente transparente, obtido por polimerização do monómero metilmetacrilato. Devido à sua transparência, estética e resistência aos riscos, o PMMA pode ser considerado alternativa ao vidro.

Poliamida (PA)

A Poliamida é um polímero artificial que pertence ao grupo das poliamidas. A sua estrutura é semicristalina e as suas principais qualidades são a dureza, grande resistência aos óleos, graxas, solventes, produtos químicos e à corrosão.

ABS

O Acrilonitrilo-butadieno-estireno (ABS) é um polímero amorfo produzido através de polimerização por emulsão ou massa do acrilonitrilo e estireno na presença de polibutadieno. As propriedades mais importantes do ABS são a resistência ao impacto e a rigidez.

PEBD/LDPE

O Polietileno (PE), é um polímero obtido pela polimerização do eteno e constituído apenas de hidrogénio e carbono. É o polímero mais simples e mais barato do mercado devido à sua alta produção mundial. Os Polietilenos são polímeros parcialmente cristalinos e flexíveis, inertes frente à maioria dos produtos químicos comuns devido à natureza parafínica, o alto peso molecular e a estrutura parcialmente cristalina.

Aproveite ao máximo os nossos produtos

Lavagem na máquina

Os nossos artigos em policarbonato são adequados para lavagem na máquina de lavar loiça até uma temperatura de 60°C. Para que os nossos artigos se mantenham nas melhores condições, é recomendado que sejam usados ciclos de temperatura abaixo dos 60°C, tanto para a lavagem como para a secagem.

Uma combinação de alguns detergentes e altas temperaturas pode levar a fissuras por tensão ambiental na superfície do polímero. Se a temperatura a utilizar for particularmente alta, é recomendado que lave os nossos artigos à mão. Isto assegura que o produto mantém o aspeto e o brilho similar ao vidro.

Recomendamos a utilização de um detergente de boa qualidade, específico para a lavagem de polímeros, preferencialmente com PH neutro, e sem abrillantador e secante. É também importante garantir que os copos não tocam uns nos outros durante o ciclo de secagem.

Lavagem manual

O processo de lavagem manual pode também ser utilizado nos nossos artigos.

Os copos em policarbonato devem ser limpos com um pano seco macio normal, e deve ser utilizada sempre a parte macia de qualquer objecto de limpeza, aquando da lavagem. Panos e esfregões mais ásperos poderão riscar o polímero, que poderá levar à criação de terreno fértil para germes e bactérias.

Um detergente normal pode ser utilizado com os nossos produtos. Fazer uma limpeza regular a uma temperatura ambiente garantirá que os artigos se mantenham como novos. Recomendamos que a secagem dos copos e outros artigos sejam feita de forma natural, à temperatura ambiente.

Depois de lavados e secos convenientemente, os nossos artigos podem ser usados novamente. São fácil e rapidamente esterilizáveis, tornando-os seguros para servir.

Zonas com águas duras

Se habita numa área com águas duras, poderá haver formação de depósitos de calcário ou outros minerais, que poderão fazer com que o aspecto dos copos possa ficar menos brilhante e cristalino.

Não significa que o policarbonato se está a deteriorar. Os depósitos minerais podem ser facilmente removidos colocando simplesmente os copos em água com uma pequena quantidade de desinfectante doméstico.

Após esta ação, certifique-se que os artigos são lavados de forma que não reste qualquer vestígio do desinfectante. Isto garantirá que os copos voltem a ter um aspeto brilhante e cristalino.

Depois de limpos, os copos deverão ser armazenados num local seguro e seco. Desta forma, garantimos que os copos não sofrerão danos adicionais, assim como se encontrarão livres de qualquer bactéria.
